Resurgent Islam: A Sociological Approach

Philip W Sutton Stephen Vertigans

The contemporary resurgence of Islam in all of its varied manifestations demands the attention of social scientists. This ground-breaking book provides a unique sociological approach to understanding such phenomena. It addresses the tendency to reify both Islam as a religion and Islamism as a political project by political Islam, Islamic activism, Islamic revivalism or resurgence, and new and emerging movements. Such an approach considers social movements as dynamic entities, as fluid and transformative. Comparing Islamic Resurgence Movements in Turkey and Iran, Mohammed M.
